

DETAIL Green

NEW! From 2009, DETAIL Green will be published twice a year in the form of special editions within the DETAIL subscription programme, appearing with issues no. 5 in May and no. 11 in November.

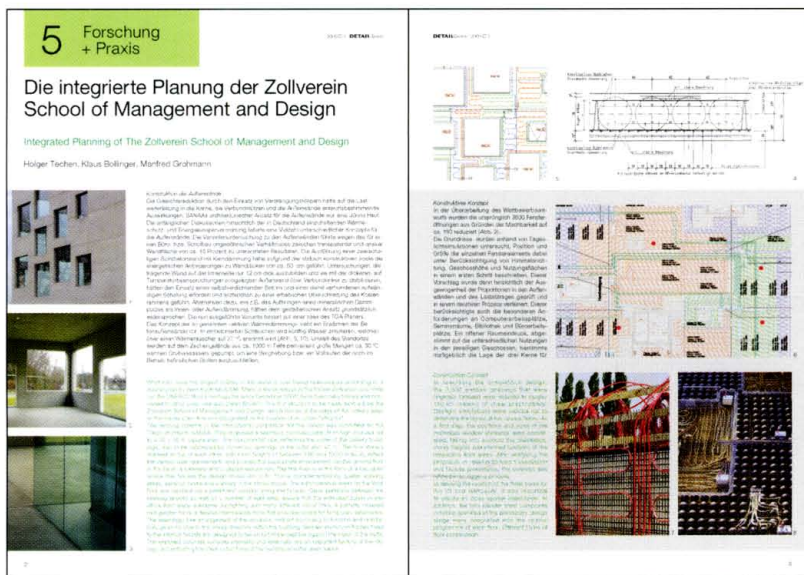

DETAIL Green is the specialist journal for all aspects of sustainable planning and construction. It brings together the many different strands of modern technology and provides orientation in the realm of innovative products and concepts, an area that has become almost unfathomable because of its sheer diversity. DETAIL Green has a strong practical application. It presents a detailed discussion of international certificates of sustainability on the basis of actual building projects, as well as providing essential information on building standards and the scope for financing schemes and obtaining support for them. DETAIL Green is able to draw on the competence and experience of the DETAIL editorial team, its authors and other experts who work on the cutting edge of modern developments – in research and teaching, and in the planning and implementation of projects.

Your benefits:

- The journal for all aspects of sustainable planning and construction
- Examples of actual buildings plus the relevant certification processes
- Great utility value
- International, global relevance
- Compiled by the people who create DETAIL
- Ongoing information accessible on the DETAIL website

Sections

- Magazine – topical insider reports, events, further education, specialist literature, links
- Background – articles on the fundamentals of sustainability, social aspects, development and energy policies
- Sustainable architecture: 1 central project with the relevant certification process, 3–4 other international examples
- Research + everyday practice / material technology
- Specialist information – standards and legislation, gaining support and financing projects
- Building materials and products

Money-back guarantee:

Should you be disappointed by these two new issues, please write to us after receiving the second one in November 2009, informing us of the reasons for your dissatisfaction, and we shall refund to you the additional cost of these two issues.